IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

COMMUNIQUE.

Calcutta, the 23rd December 1929.

The following is published for general information:—

It is expected that the Committee appointed by resolution in the Irrigation Department No. 3084-I.E., dated the 30th November 1929, will assemble in the first week of January. The Committee will probably tour in January and February to see some of the waterways of the province.

They will also see some of the work now done by the Irrigation Department and will wish to ascertain what other kinds of work should be done if a separate department is created or any expansion is made possible. They will not of course be concerned with the merits of individual schemes, great or small, but will desire to learn what local needs there are which in the opinion of the local authorities may fairly claim the attention of a department or Board entrusted with the care of waterways. Upon other matters also such as the formation of a Waterways Board and the problem of finance, the Committee will desire to ascertain public opinion.

The details of all the proposed tours are not yet finally settled. The first tour, however, is intended to include an examination of parts of the Ganges, Jamuna and Meghna including the offtake of the Bhagirathi, Bhairab Jalangi and Mathabhangra rivers. The programme is published below and is intended to afford opportunities for discussion at the headquarters stations of Dacca, Mymensingh, Padma and Rajshahi and also at Serajganj, Chandpur and Goalundo.

HOME DEPARTMENT.King's Police Medal.*NOTIFICATION.

(POLICE.)

New Delhi, the 1st January 1930.

No. F./25/II/29.—His Majesty the King, Emperor of India, has been pleased to confer the King's Police Medal, and in one case a bar to the Medal previously awarded, on the following officers and men of the Indian Police establishments:—

Bengal.

7. Muhammad Din Khan, Constable, Eastern Bengal and Assam Bengal Railway Police.—On the 24th December 1928, a deaf and short-sighted old man was seen by passengers at Kaunia Station on the E. B. Railway to be wandering across the railway line directly in front of an incoming train and when it was apparent that nothing could save him from being run over, Constable Muhammad Din Khan who was on platform duty at the time jumped on the line at great personal risk and managed to get him out of the way in time. The Constable's action was highly spoken of by those who witnessed the incident and there is no doubt that he behaved with great courage.

8. Abdus Subhan, Officiating Assistant Sub-Inspector.—On the evening of the 8th October 1928 a country boat, with a party of 6 men and a boy, proceeding from Shazadpur, capsized in a storm. The Assistant Sub-Inspector was at the time returning from the mufassil in a boat accompanied by a constable and a dafadar, and on hearing cries for help, he hastened to the spot and found an old man in imminent danger of drowning. He jumped into the river at once and succeeded in bringing the old man to his boat where he applied the necessary first aid.

9. Raja Ram Ahir, Constable.—On the night of the 13th December 1928 the police raided a house in Khulna town in order to arrest a dangerous proclaimed offender. The accused came out with a sword and attacked the Inspector in charge of the police party, whereupon constable Raja Ram Ahir stood in front of the Inspector and with commendable courage saved him at the risk of his own life though he himself received injuries. The constable displayed considerable courage and devotion to duty.

10. Upendra Nath Dutta, Officiating Inspector, Intelligence Branch, Criminal Investigation Department.—This officer entered the Bengal Police in 1907 and throughout his service has shown marked ability in detective and secret work and has always carried out his duties at great personal risk.

Public Health.

CALCUTTA, THE 11TH JANUARY 1930.

RESOLUTION No. 97P.II.

Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray.

The Government of Bengal have had under consideration for some time past the improvement of measures for the prevention of epidemic disease in the rural areas of Bengal. It was realized as far back as 1919 that a Central Organisation for control of public health measures however efficient was powerless to achieve any results alone. There must be agents distributed over the whole province competent to give effect to the measures prescribed. With this end in view a Public Health Bill was drafted in 1919, the main features of which were the conversion of local boards into rural sanitary authorities and the employment by them of a sanitary staff and the amendment of the Cess Act to provide for a Sanitary Cess. This Bill, however, was not introduced in the Legislative Council.

Meanwhile the system of union boards under the Bengal Village Self-Government Act of 1919 has been introduced in most of the districts, and provides a net work of self-governing units which can be utilised with advantage towards decentralization of public health measures in the rural areas.

Another step in the direction of decentralization was made in the year 1925 with the formulation of a scheme of Public Health Organization in rural areas. Under this scheme the district boards open public health centres, one in each rural thana of a district, in charge of a Sanitary Inspector or Assistant Health Officer. The cost of the scheme is borne by Government, while the units are under the control of the district board through the agency of the District Health Officer. The function of these units is to obtain information regarding the health conditions in the areas in the charge and to take measures of prevention against the spread of epidemic diseases. This scheme was given effect to in 1927 and since then 517 units have been established in 517 of 574 rural thanas in the province.

In order that the staff attached to the public health units may have the support of public opinion, Public Health Committees are being formed in many of the thanas with public health centres. It is contemplated that these committees should on the one hand operate for the decentralization of public health work in matters of purely local interest and on the other serve as a co-ordinating agency for the work of union boards in measures extending over a larger area than that of a single union board.

In 1928 a short Bill was introduced by Dr. Kumud Sankar Ray in the local Legislative Council with the object of controlling epidemic diseases. The Bill provided for the prompt supply of information, particularly by medical practitioners, about the existence of infectious diseases to the authorities in charge of sanitation, who were to be armed with larger powers for taking preventive steps. Some tendency was shown in discussions in the Select Committee to widen its scope by placing further responsibilities on union boards.

The Bill could not however be taken into consideration in the Legislative Council which was dissolved towards the close of the year. The material offered by this Bill and discussions in the Select Committee suggest another line of approach to the task of co-ordinating public health work in rural areas. At the same time Government in the Ministry of Public Health are of opinion that with so much ground-work already prepared, future measures for the improvement of public health in rural areas should be linked with these thana rural health centres and with the system of union boards.

The Government (Ministry of Local Self-Government) have accordingly decided to appoint a committee of official and non-official consisting of the following members to advise generally on public health in rural areas.

Hon'ble Member in Charge Local Self-Government Department.

Director of Public Health.

Dr. Kumud Sankar Roy.

Dr. Bidhan Chandra Roy.

Babu Nolini Ranjan Sarker.

Khan Bahadur Alimuzzaman (Boudhury, Chairman, Faridpur District Board.

Rai Bahadur Jogesh Chandra Sen, Chairman, 24-Pargannas District Board.

Mr. Altaf Ali, Chairman, Bogra District Board.

Mr. P. H. Waddell, District Magistrate of Howrah.

Lt.-Col. Stewart, Director, Rockefeller Institution of Public Hygiene.

Secretary, Local Self-Government Department.

The Assistant Secretary to the Government in the Local Self-Government Department will act as Secretary to the Committee.

The terms of reference to the committee will be—

"To consider measures necessary in the interests of public health in rural areas for preventing the spread of infectious diseases and for taking precautions against their outbreak with special reference to the rural public health units and union boards."

Ordered—That a copy of the above resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information and that copies be communicated to the members of the Committee on Public Health in rural areas and to the Director of Public Health for information.

Also that copy be forwarded to all Commissioners of Divisions for information and communication to district boards and District Officers under them.

By order of the Govt. of Bengal
(Ministry of Local Self-Government),

C. W. GURNER,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Draft Rules.

I. Application of the rules.

1. These rules shall apply both to the erection and the re-erection of any building which is not a hut.

II. Stability of structures.

2. (1) No building shall be erected or re-erected on a site which has been filled up with or used for depositing rubbish or such other material, as is likely to render the site unstable or incapable of drainage until at least five years have elapsed since it was so filled up or used and unless the Chairman has certified that the soil of such site is firm and solid and that the stability of any building constructed thereon will not be endangered.

(2) No building shall be erected or re-erected on a site within 30 feet of a tank unless the owner places or satisfies the Chairman that he will place the house drains, privy or cesspool in such a position as to prevent their draining into the tank.

III. Buildings generally.

3. External and party walls of all buildings must be constructed of good bricks, stone or other hard and incombustible material properly bonded and solidly put together by soorki and lime mortar or some other suitable material.

4. Every external and party wall of a building must have a damp proof course at the level of the groundfloor. Such damp proof course may consist of (1) sheet-lead, (2) asphalt, (3) slate laid in cement mortar, (4) artificial stone or cement concrete one inch thick, (5) two courses of bricks dipped in hot coal tar and embedded in cement mortar, or some other material impervious to moisture.

5. Except with the sanction of the Commissioners the foundation of a building must rest on solid ground.

6. The spread of foundation must be such that the pressure on the soil caused by the total weight of the walls, floors and roofs taking into account the load on the floors and roofs, terraced roof (if any) shall not be greater than one ton on each square foot.

7. The levels (i.e., the depth) of the foundation must be such as the Commissioners consider satisfactory. The minimum depth of foundation must not be less than 4 feet on the road side and 3 feet in the interior.

8. The plinth of building should be at least 2 feet higher than the centre of the nearest street.

9. Every external and party wall must be constructed so as to rest upon proper footings having regular offsets.

10. All external and party walls should be properly bonded.

11. The floor of every masonry building must be constructed to bear a safe load of 1.25 cwt. per square foot, including live load.

12. All beams and girders in a building must be supported by a breadth of brick-work sufficient to assure their stability and the bearing of those beams and girders with a minimum of 15 inches on a wall shall not be less than three-fourths of the thickness of the wall. There should be stone or iron and steel bed plates underneath each end.

13. The height of a building measured from the plinth shall not be more than twice the breadth of the road including side drains (if any) on which it stands, or in case where there is any open space in front of the building, the height shall not exceed twice the width of the road plus the width of the open space, or in case where one or more of its storeys are set back, the height may be increased so that it shall not be more than twice the sum of the width of the road and the set-back taken together:

Provided that in no case shall a building exceeding 50 feet in height be erected without the special permission of the Chairman.

IV. Buildings used or likely to be used for dwelling purposes.

14. No room other than a bath-room or a privy shall be placed over a privy in a building, which is to be used for dwelling purposes.

15. The total area covered by all the buildings (including verandahs) on any site used for dwelling houses shall not exceed two-thirds of the total area of the site.

16. There must be in the rear of every building which is to be used for dwelling purposes an open space of 8 feet in width extending along the entire width of the building and belonging exclusively to the building, unless the back of the building abuts on a public square or street, of not less than 16 feet, in which case the provisions of rule 13 shall be applied with reference to the width of such street or square.

17. If the site on which a building is to be erected or re-erected is of such a nature that it is in the opinion of the Chairman impracticable to provide an open space in the rear of the building of the dimensions prescribed, the Chairman may relax the provisions of rule 16:

Provided that—

(a) Such open space shall be left as the Chairman may consider practicable, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, and

(b) Not more than two-thirds of the total area of the site shall be occupied by the building.

18. If either side of a building which is meant for a dwelling house is not attached to the adjacent building, and if such side does not abut on a public square or street, not less than 6 feet in width there must be between the buildings an open space extending along the entire length of such side and belonging exclusively to the said building.

The minimum distance across such space from every part of the building to the boundary line of the land or building immediately opposite such part shall be—

(a) six feet, if there is a building next to such boundary line or wall, or

(b) four feet, if there is an open space of at least two feet on the other side of such boundary line or wall.

19. Every open space must be open to the sky, throughout its entire area, and must be kept accessible for the purposes of cleansing and no structure shall be erected within or above so as to project over the same, nor shall such open space be taken into account in determining the area of any open space required under these rules for any other buildings:

Provided that a privy or a receptacle for ashes may be erected in any such open space, if such space is not less than 10 feet in width, and provided the wall of the privy to be so constructed is not within 4 feet from the nearest wall of a building.

20. Every habitable room of a building intended for dwelling purposes shall have at least one or more windows directly opening into the external air, and of an aggregate area of not less than one-tenth of the floor area of the room.

V. Drainage.

21. Every building must have a pucca well cemented drain with a proper gradient to discharge into the nearest Municipal drain.

VI. Application for erection of a building.

made in writing on a printed form to be had from the Municipal office and must contain the description and specification of the building, and must be accompanied with the following plans in duplicate except in case of jute warehouses where they must be in triplicate:—

(i) Plans of the site drawn to a scale of not less than fifty feet to an inch showing:—

(Stamp twelve annas.)

Memorandum of Agreement made this eleventh day of January 1930 between the Calcutta Medical Institute, a society registered under Act XXI of 1860 and having its registered office at 301-3, Upper Circular Road in the city of Calcutta (hereinafter called the Institute) of the one part and the Secretary of State for India in Council (hereinafter called the Secretary of State) of the other part.

Whereas for the purpose of the construction of menials' quarters and the out-patients' department, the Institute has applied to the Government of Bengal for the acquisition

And whereas the said Government of Bengal, being satisfied by an enquiry held under section 40 of the said Act that the proposed acquisition is needed for the aforesaid purpose and that the said work is likely to prove useful to the public, has consented to acquire on behalf of the Institute the piece or parcel of land hereinbefore described.

And whereas the said Government of Bengal has required the Institute under the provisions of section 41 of the abovementioned Act to enter into the Agreement with the Secretary of State hereinafter contained. Now this Indenture witnesseth that it is hereby agreed and declared as follows:—

3. On payment by the Institute of all demands under the foregoing first clause, or, in the discretion of the said Government of Bengal (on deposit by the Institute of all estimated amounts as provided in the second clause), but not before possession shall have been taken under the provisions of the abovementioned Act, the Secretary of State shall make over possession of the said land to the Institute and shall execute and do all such acts and deeds as may be necessary and proper for effectually vesting the same in the Institute.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT.NOTIFICATIONS.

New Delhi, the 8th January 1930.

No. F-52-R-1/29.—The following resolution by the Secretary of State for India in Council is published for general information:—

In exercise of the powers conferred by subsection (2) of section 96B of the Government of India Act, the Secretary of State with the concurrence of the majority of votes at a meeting of the Council of India held this 9th day of October 1929, hereby makes the following amendment in the Civil Service Regulations, namely:—

For Appendix 32 of the said Regulations, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

APPENDIX No. 32.

Rules for the grant of additional leave to officers for the study of scientific, technical or similar problems, or in order to undertake special courses of instruction.

The following rules relate to study leave only. They are not intended to meet the case of officers deputed to other countries at the instance of Government, either for the performance of special duties imposed on them or for the investigation of specific problems connected with their technical duties. Such cases will continue to be dealt with on their merits under the rules governing deputation in the Fundamental Rules. The rules apply, subject to the provisions of the Civil Services (Governors' Provinces) Delegation Rules, 1926, to the Archaeological Department, the Public Health and Medical Research Departments (other than as regards officers of the Indian Medical Service, to whom special rules apply), the Botanical Survey (including the officers of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta), the Civil Veterinary Department, the Factory Department, the Geological Survey, the Agricultural Department, the Meteorological Department, the Railway Department (Traffic, Locomotive and Engineering Branches), the Telegraph Department, the Zoological Survey, the Education Department, the Public Works Department, and the Forest Department (except in respect of continental tours to which special rules apply). The rules may be extended by the authorities empowered to sanction study leave under rule 1A to any officer including an officer of a Provincial Service, not belonging to any of the departments mentioned above, in whose case the sanctioning authority is of opinion that leave should be granted in the public interest to pursue a special course of study or investigation of a scientific or technical nature.

NOTE.—(The extension of these rules to the Public Works and Railway Departments does not affect the existing rule under which officers are allowed to visit engineering works when on leave in Great Britain.)

1. The powers granted by these rules to the Government of India or to Local Governments may be delegated by them to the High Commissioner for India, subject to any condition they may think fit to impose.

1A. Extra furlough for the purpose of study leave may be taken either in or outside India. It may be granted to an officer of any of the departments named above by the Local Government or Administration under which he is serving, provided that when an officer borne permanently on the cadre of one province or department is serving temporarily in another province or department the grant of leave is subject to the conditions (a) that the sanctioning authority can make local arrangements to carry on his work in his absence, and (b) that the sanction of the province or department to which he is permanently attached is obtained before leave is given. Study leave should not ordinarily be granted to officers of less than five years' service or to officers within three years of the date at which they have the option of retiring, or, if they have the option of retiring after 20 years' service, within three years of the date at which they will complete 25 years' service: Nor should it be granted to officers who are about to retire on proportionate pension.

NOTE.—Departments of the Government of India may grant study leave to officers under their administrative control, subject to the restrictions which apply to the powers of a Local Government.

2. The grant of study leave should be made with due regard to the exigencies of the public service. In no case should the grant of this leave, in combination with any form of leave other than extraordinary leave or leave on medical certificate, involve an absence of over two years from an officer's regular duties, or exceed two years in the whole period of an officer's service; nor should it be granted with such frequency as to remove him from contact with his regular work or to cause undue difficulties owing to his absence on leave. A period of 12 months at one time should ordinarily be regarded as a suitable maximum, and should not be exceeded save for exceptional reasons.

3. An officer whose study leave is combined with any other kind of leave should be required to take his period of study leave at such a time as to retain, at its conclusion, a balance of other previously sanctioned leave sufficient to cover the period spent in returning to duty.

4. When an officer has been granted a definite period of study leave and finds subsequently that his course of study will fall short of the sanctioned period to any considerable extent, his absence from duty should be reduced by the excess period of study leave unless he produces the assent of the sanctioning authority in India to his taking it as ordinary furlough.

5. Except as provided in rule 6, all applications for study leave should be submitted with the audit officer's certificate to the head of the department through the prescribed channel, and the course or courses of study contemplated and any examination which a candidate proposes to undergo should be clearly specified therein.

If the course of study is in Europe or America, the head of the department should also forward to the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India, General Department, a copy of the approved programme of study. If it is not possible for the officer to give full details, as above, in his original application, or if, after leaving India, he wishes to make any changes in the programme which has been approved in India, he should submit particulars as soon as possible to the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India, General Department. In such cases, he should not, unless prepared to do so at his own risk, commence the course of study, nor incur any expenses in connection therewith, until he receives approval to the course through the High Commissioner.

6. (a) Officers on furlough or other leave in Europe or America who wish to convert part of the leave into study leave or to undertake a course of study during leave, should, before commencing study and before incurring any expenses in connection therewith, submit a programme of their proposed course of study to the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India, General Department. The programme should be accompanied by an official syllabus of the course, if one is available, and by any documentary evidence that the particular course, or examination has the approval of the authorities in India. In the absence of such evidence the programme may, if approved by the High Commissioner, be proceeded with, but no study leave allowance will be admissible until the concurrence of the authority concerned in India is received.

(b) Similarly officers on leave in the United Kingdom who desire to have it extended for purposes of study under these rules should address the Secretary to the High Commissioner for India, but in addition to furnishing a statement of the proposed study they must support their applications with documentary evidence of their having obtained the approval of the authorities concerned in India to their applying for an extension of leave. They must also produce documentary evidence of the concurrence of the authority concerned in India to the grant of study leave and/or study allowance.

6A. No course of study will be recognised as qualifying for the grant of study allowance, or for study leave for any other purpose, unless it has been approved in at least broad outline by the sanctioning authority in India in accordance with rules 5 and 6 above, and unless, in cases where it has not been found possible to submit full particulars to the authorities in India, it has been approved in detail by the High Commissioner before it is begun.

7. A study allowance will be granted for the period spent in prosecuting a definite course of study at a recognised institution or in any definite tour of inspection of any special class of work, as well as for the period covered by any examination at the end of the course of study. The rates as at present fixed are 12s. a day in the United Kingdom, £1 a day on the continent of Europe and 30s. a day in the United States of America. These rates are liable to revision. The rate to be granted to officers who take study leave in other countries including India, will be specially considered by the Government of India or the Local Government in each case. In no case will subsistence allowance be granted in addition to study allowance and ordinarily travelling expenses will not be paid, but in exceptional cases claims will be considered on their merits by the Government of India or the Local Government.

8. Study allowance will be admissible up to 14 days for any period of vacation. A period during which an officer interrupts his course for his own convenience cannot be considered as vacation. Study allowance may be given at the discretion of the Government of India or a Local Government for any period up to 14 days at one time during which the officer is prevented by sickness duly certified by a medical practitioner from pursuing the sanctioned course of study. In the case of an officer retiring from the service without returning to duty after a period of study leave the study allowance will be forfeited. If the officer is under civil leave rules the study leave will be converted into furlough to the extent of the furlough standing to his credit at the date of retirement. Any balance of the period of study leave mentioned above which cannot be so converted will be excluded in reckoning service for pension.

9. Officers granted study leave are ordinarily required to meet the cost of fees paid for courses of study. In exceptional cases the Government of India or the Local Government will be prepared to consider proposals that such fees should be paid by Government.

10. On completion of a course of study a certificate on the proper form (which may be obtained from the High Commissioner), together with certificates of examinations passed or of special study, shall, when the study leave has been taken in Europe or America, be forwarded to the High Commissioner. When the study leave has been taken in any other country certificates of examinations passed or of special study, which should show the dates of commencement and termination of the course, with any remarks by the Instructor, shall be forwarded to the authority which sanctioned the leave. In the case of a definite course of study at a recognised institution the study allowance will be payable by the High Commissioner or in India, as the case may be, on claims submitted by the officer from time to time, supported by proper certificates of attendance. When the programme of study approved under rule 5 does not include or does not consist entirely of such a course of study, the officer shall submit to the High Commissioner or to the authority in India which sanctioned his leave, as the case may be, a diary showing how his time has been spent, and a report indicating fully the nature of the methods and operations which have been studied and including suggestions as to the possibility of applying such methods or operations to India. The sanctioning authority in India will decide whether the diary and report show that the time of the officer has been properly employed, and will determine accordingly for what period the study allowance referred to in rule 7 may be granted.

11. Study leave will count as service for promotion and pension but not for furlough or any other leave. It will not affect any leave which may already be due to an officer; it will count as extra furlough, and will not be taken into account in reckoning the aggregate amount of furlough taken by the officer towards the maximum period admissible under the Civil Service Regulations.

12. During study leave an officer will draw half average salary as defined in Article 16, Civil Service Regulations, subject to the maxima and minima laid down in Articles 316, 319, 326 and 327 ibid. The rate of exchange prescribed by the Secretary of State in Council for the conversion of leave allowances shall apply to study leave allowances. An officer may, subject to the approval of the proper authorities being obtained as required by rules 5 or 6, undertake or commence a course of study during privilege leave, and subject to rules 7 and 8, draw study allowance in respect thereof, provided that study allowance is not drawn for an aggregate period exceeding two years during the whole of an officer's service.

This rule applies to military officers in civil employment taking leave under the Civil Service Regulations.

13. On an application for study leave in Europe or America being sanctioned by the Government of Madras, Bombay or Bengal, the Local Government should inform the High Commissioner of the particulars of the case. When such leave is sanctioned by any other Local Government or Administration, a report should be made to the Government of India who will inform the High Commissioner. It will be necessary for the officer concerned to place himself in communication with the High Commissioner who will arrange any details and issue any letters of introduction that may be required. In all cases in which study leave in any other country is sanctioned the particulars should be reported to the Government of India.

Press Communiqué.

Three State technical scholarships of the value of £240 per annum each (inclusive of a bonus of £40) tenable in England for the training of Indians in Marine Engineering will be awarded during the year 1930. The training in Marine Engineering consists of (i) workshop service (i.e., practical training in the construction and erection of marine engines), and (ii) sea service. The total period of training will extend from six to seven years. Of this four to five years will be required to complete the training at such private firms of marine engineers as may be arranged by the High Commissioner for India. This period of workshop apprenticeship will be followed by training for 18 months at sea in a foreign-going ship, arrangements for which will also be made by the High Commissioner.

2. The scholarships will be awarded after a competitive examination which will be held at different centres in India on the 7th April 1930 and the following days. Rules and conditions for the grant of these scholarships and the rules for the competitive examination for the selection of candidates for the scholarships are being published in Part I of the Gazette of India, dated the 11th January 1930. Applications for entry to the examination must be made on the prescribed form, copies of which can be obtained from the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Commerce, and they must reach that department on or before the 7th March 1930.

Rules and conditions for the grant of three scholarships in 1930 tenable in England for the training of Marine Engineers.

I. Candidates will be required to appear at an examination. The regulations prescribing the qualifications of candidates, the rules for the examination and the method of selection are detailed in Appendix II to these rules.

II. The selected candidates will be apprenticed for training at such private firm or firms of marine engineers as may be arranged by the High Commissioner for India. This apprenticeship will extend over a period of four to five years.

III. The period of apprenticeship will be followed by training for 18 months at sea in a foreign-going ship in order to enable the candidates to sit for the Second Class Engineers' Examination of the Board of Trade.

IV. The selected candidates will be required to observe the rules laid down by the Government of India or the High Commissioner (vide below).

Rules required to be observed by the scholar.

1. All Government scholars are required to avail themselves of the information and advice which the High Commissioner for India is in a position to give them and to apply to the Education Department of the High Commissioner's Office for instructions as regards their studies and in any circumstances of difficulty, and in regard to any matter requiring the sanction of the High Commissioner or the Government of India.

2. Every scholar should, on reaching England, at once report himself to the Education Department of the Office of the High Commissioner for India in London, 42, Grosvenor Gardens, S. W. 1. Accommodation for new arrivals is provided at 21, Cromwell Road, South Kensington, S. W. 7.

3. Every scholar must obey all instructions which he may receive from the Office of the High Commissioner.

4. Every scholar must from time to time, whenever the High Commissioner for India requires it, submit a certificate from the authority under whom he is working, showing that his conduct and progress have been satisfactory.

5. Every scholar must give a written undertaking that he will at once and without discussion of possible alternatives devote himself exclusively to the course of training laid down for him, comply with whatever instructions are given and do whatever work they may involve. Any scholar who neglects his studies, or tries to work for any other profession concurrently, will render himself liable to forfeiture of his scholarship.

6. Every scholar will be required to keep a concise diary of his work to be submitted to the High Commissioner for India at the dates laid down in the rules for the keeping of such diaries.

7. Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the scholar's allowance will be paid quarterly in advance by the Office of the High Commissioner. It will begin from the date of the scholar's reporting his arrival in England, and the High Commissioner will disburse it to the scholar in such instalments as convenience may dictate. Three months after the date of reporting arrival the amount to the ensuing official Quarter Days* will be paid and subsequent payments will be made in advance on or after each official Quarter Day.

8. Every scholar is required to lodge with the High Commissioner in London, before his arrival in England, the sum of £40 for initial expenses. He will have no claim to payment of any instalment of his scholarship until this deposit has been made.

9. The necessary travelling expenses of scholars by second class or by third class, if no second be available, will, if sanctioned, be defrayed by the High Commissioner. Applications for payment of these charges should be made to the High Commissioner. But charges for private tuition, unless specially sanctioned, for books, instruments, hotel bills and medical attendance must be paid by the scholar himself.

* Note.—The official quarter days are the 1st January, the 1st April, the 1st July and the 1st October.

10. No claim can be admitted for the payment of any expenditure unless the scholar has obtained previous sanction from the High Commissioner.

11. The allowance will be at the rate of £200 a year plus a bonus of £40 a year and will be reduced or withdrawn while the scholar is being trained at sea on a foreign-going ship. Every scholar who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the High Commissioner may consider sufficient, fails to comply with the rules here set forth will forfeit his scholarship. It may be terminated at any time by the High Commissioner, if a scholar fails in health or conduct, in which case he will be provided at the discretion of the High Commissioner with a second class passage to India.

12. He must also execute a bond in the form appended (Appendix I) undertaking to pay a sum up to Rs. 20,000 if he fails to return to India when instructed to do so or if he settles in some other country within five years of the termination of his scholarship.

13. A free second class passage from the port of embarkation in India to England will be provided and the cost of the overland journey from Marseilles will in no circumstances be refunded to a scholar, unless he is expressly instructed by Government to travel overland and is provided with a steamer ticket to Marseilles only. In the latter event the High Commissioner for India will refund the rail and baggage expenses on the direct instructions of the Government of India.

14. The scholar should clearly understand that the grant of the scholarship does not entitle him on completion of his course to an appointment in Government service, but he should immediately on his return to India report his arrival to the Government of India.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE BENGAL (RURAL) PRIMARY EDUCATION BILL, 1929.

We the members of the Select Committee of the Bengal Legislative Council to which the Bengal (Rural) Primary Education Bill, 1929, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Council on 6th August, 1929, have the honour to submit this our report with a copy of the Bill as amended by us, annexed. The principal changes made by us in the Bill are indicated by underlining.

1. The Bill was published in English in the Calcutta Gazette on 25th July, 1929.
2. The Committee met for the first time on Tuesday, 20th August, and concluded its sittings on Tuesday, 29th October, 1929.
3. We do not consider that the Bill has been so altered as to require re-publication.
4. We recommend that the Bill as amended be passed by the Council.
5. The following are the principal changes made in the Bill:—

Preamble.—The preamble has been amplified to give fuller expression to the objects and intentions which the Select Committee had in view, and contains a definite assertion of the aspiration to make primary education compulsory within ten years.

Clause 1.—A limit has been fixed within which the provisions of Chapter II must be brought into force.

Chapter II.—The Central Primary Education Committee contemplated by the Bill as introduced was an advisory body only; control was in the hands of the Local Government, and the detailed administration of primary education was vested in bodies called District School Boards constituted by the Local Government for the purpose in each district of the Province. We have replaced this advisory body by a body to be called the Primary Education Board of Bengal and we have vested in it the powers and duties in regard to primary education which were allotted under the Bill to the Local Government. We consider that primary education should be controlled by a body of persons acquainted with the needs of the people, that they should be primarily responsible for its development, that the policy and system through which primary education is to be spread should be laid down by them, and that Government machinery should be employed only in carrying out executive work under this independent body. We have provided for this purpose a Board of twenty-seven members, of whom twenty one are elected or co-opted, one member is the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, three members are appointed by the Local Government, while the Chairman who is to be a whole-time officer paid by the Board, will be appointed by the Local Government from a panel of three persons selected by the Board.

Comprehensive powers are given to the Board by clause 5 which makes the Board the sole determining and controlling authority in all matters relating to primary education. The Board will make provision for a staff of inspectors, and for the training of teachers. It will also control and administer the Bengal Primary Education Central Fund the nature of which is indicated by its name, and by clause 5A of the amended Bill.

The annual Budget of the Board is to be submitted for approval to the Local Government, and the Board will also submit an annual report to the Local Government on the progress of primary education. The Local Government has power if the Board makes default in the performance of its duties to supersede the existing Board and replace the members by others.

Chapter III.—We have altered the machinery proposed in the Bill by substituting for the District School Board a body to be called the District Council of Primary Education. These Councils we have constituted on more widely democratic principles than those followed by the Bill in the constitution of the District School Boards, and we have divested them of certain elements of official control. We have removed the District Magistrate and the Subdivisional Magistrates from membership, and have made provision for the direct representation of primary school teachers and other teachers. We have provided that for the first four years of the Council's existence the Chairman of the District Board shall preside instead of the District Magistrate. We have also provided that these Councils shall be subject to the control and supervision of the Board, and that they shall be established only at the instance of the Board. The Councils are required to appoint a whole-time executive officer to whom the President of the Council may delegate his own powers. The power of control vested by the Bill in the Commissioner of the Division and in the Local Government by clauses 20 and 21 of the Bill, have by us been transferred to the New Primary Education Board. Similarly the power given by clause 22 of the Bill to the Local Government to supersede a defaulting district body can now only be exercised on a recommendation by the Primary Education Board.

We have expanded the list of powers and duties of these district bodies contained in clause 23.

Chapter IV.—The principal change made in the taxation proposals of the Bill is the reduction of the rate of education cess from five pice per rupee to four pice, and the alteration of the incidence of the tax by providing that the raiyat and the landlord shall each pay two pice per rupee, the raiyat on the rent paid by him and the landlord on, broadly speaking, the difference between the rent received and that paid by him. In the assessment of the tax on trade, business or profession under clause 34 we have inserted a provision requiring the approval of the District Council to the assessment made by the District Magistrate. We have also provided that the assessment list made by the District Magistrate shall be sent to the District Council and that an appeal shall lie from his assessment to the District Council. We have inserted a sub-clause intended to make any officer of a union board or panchayat which is guilty of default in collecting the tax liable to a pecuniary penalty.

Clause 39 has been recast in accordance with the general principle adopted by us that the Councils should be subject to control by the Board rather than by Government.

Chapter VI.—The main changes made here are in consequence of the alterations in the machinery under the Act, and are self-explanatory.

Chapter VII.—We have provided here for a new body to be called the Village School Committee which will perform the functions which the proposed to vest in Union Committees and Panchayats. Clause 51A vests in the Councils a power of control over such committees.

Chapter VIII.—We have inserted here provisions for registration of schools by the Council as a preliminary to recognition.

Chapter IX.—The Bill vested in the Local Government the initiative in establishing compulsory primary education. We have remodelled the chapter so as to vest in the Councils this power of initiation, either of their own motion, or under orders of the Board. The Councils will submit a scheme for providing compulsory education through the Board to the Local Government.

Chapter XI has been enlarged by the addition for further saving clauses.

Chapter XII contains the rule-making powers. We have distributed these between the Local Government and the Board allotting the power where possible and expedient to the Board. We have inserted by clause 65B provision for the supervision of such rules by the Bengal Legislative Council and for effective publication.

Note of Dissent by the Hon'ble Mr. M. C. McAlpin, C.I.E.

This Bill was referred to the Select Committee on the motion, which Government opposed, of Babu Naliniranjan Sarkar. On the Committee there is a majority in favour of his proposals which have, in the main, been opposed by Government. The result is that the Bill, as it has now emerged from the Select Committee bears little resemblance to the Government Bill and cannot any longer be properly regarded as a Government Bill but as a piece of private legislation.

2. The principal change which has been made transfers from Government and the Legislative Council practically all control over primary education to a central executive body, composed mainly of non-officials, called the Primary Education Board of Bengal, with almost independent powers; it has even been given powers to frame statutory rules without the approval of Government. The Legislative Council has, it is true, been left with the power of refusing its vote to any sums asked for by the Board in excess of that at present spent on primary education, but even if these sums were voted by the Council, the Minister would have practically no control over its administration, as this control would be exercised by the Board. The Board is to control the local educational bodies called the district councils of primary education. These councils are also mainly non-official. They are desirable in order to deal with local detail, though their constitution is not free from objection. They found a place in the original Bill, and if constituted in the manner provided therein should have been able to function properly under the preliminary guidance of the District Magistrate. The Bill thus sets up to new mainly non-official bodies which must necessarily be experimental, the Board to guide the subordinate district bodies in order to solve a problem which, in the words of the Hartog Committee's report, "taxes to the utmost the skill, ingenuity and energy of the best administrators." One set of such bodies, the district councils, was ample to satisfy the requirements of local self-government. The insertion of the second experimental body, the Central Board, requires the fullest justification.

3. Apart from the obviously unpromising nature of the above solution, the position appears to be fundamentally and constitutionally unsound. For all practical purposes neither the Minister nor the members of the Legislative Council, the accredited representatives of the people of Bengal would have any control over the provincial administration of primary education, for this has been transferred to the Board by the changes made by the Select Committee. This means nothing more or less than that the population of Bengal is disfranchised in respect of the provincial administration of primary education.

4. There is another curious constitutional anomaly in the proposed Central Board. It has to all intents and purposes no funds of its own; all the funds have to be provided by Government, though there is a provision for voluntary contributions, etc., to the Board, which, it may reasonably be assumed, will not amount to much. The Board is thus a self-governing body with practically no funds of its own. Though I cannot advance the proposition that a self-supporting self-governing body should have complete freedom, it is obvious that the more dependant upon Government a self-governing authority is for its funds, the less freedom it should have applying this principle to the proposed Central Board, it should have practically no freedom, and yet it is proposed in the Bill that whilst Government provide the money and pay the piper, the Board should call the tune.

5. I fail to find any justification whatever for the proposed provincial Board. Alleged precedents have been quoted for such a Board in the cases of, for instance, the Calcutta Port Trust and the Calcutta University. These cases are, however, by no means parallel, principally because the mass of the population is neither interested in the Port Trust nor in the Calcutta University. For another thing the Port Trust is self-supporting and probably the University ought to be. Even English precedents cannot be cited, for the English Board of Education is a purely official body and to all intents and purposes is the Minister for Education.

It has been contended that the Central Executive Body is necessary, because Government have not the time to spare to attend to primary education. The argument is invalid, for Government must obviously find the necessary time, and, if necessary, provide for officers; for example it was under contemplation to appoint a special Director of Public Instruction to deal with primary education. It is obvious that if any Retrenchment Committee were appointed to sit on the finances of Government, they would immediately draw attention to the extravagance of having a special board to deal with what are the obvious duties and functions of Government. It has also been contended that Government in the past had failed to introduce compulsory primary education, and therefore it is now necessary to hand over the control to an independent body. There is something wanting in the logic of this argument; but apart from that, the real reasons why compulsory primary education have not been introduced are two; lack of money and lack of any demand for compulsory primary education. Compulsory primary education is essentially a product of modern times.

It has further been contended that Government does not understand the needs of the people, and that therefore the control must be handed to an independent body. The intention of the Government was to keep this control in the hands of the people through their representatives in the Legislative Council and the Minister responsible to them. This contention, therefore, amounts to a statement that the Minister and the representatives of the people in the Legislative Council do not know the needs of the people in the matter of primary education, a conclusion which ought to be a reductio ad absurdum.

The real reason for the introduction of this central body is presumably that the party making these changes in the Bill dislike the present system of Government—a political reason which is an obviously unsound basis for a piece of permanent legislation. In my opinion, there is no justification whatever for the proposed central board.

6. It may be argued that it would be possible to work the Bill if the Board be constituted in such a manner that it could be trusted to function properly, to be free from political influence and actually to secure the rights of minorities. The subject is, however, in my opinion, too important to warrant such an unnecessary and may be costly and disastrous experiment, whilst the experiment itself introduces numerous complications regarding funds, staff, etc.

7. Not content with having set up the central experimental body, the Select Committee have removed from the district councils the District Magistrates who were placed on them in the original Bill for the first 8 years in order to ensure that the administrative experience of these officers and their subordinates would be available to the councils during the difficult period of the introduction of the scheme.

8. The Select Committee have, however, done one good thing and that is, that they have affirmed the decision of Government and of the first Select Committee that the only way of financing the scheme for primary education is by means of a cess assessed in a similar manner and collected in the same way as the public works and road cess under the Bengal Cess Act of 1880, coupled with a tax on persons engaged in trades, businesses and professions collected through the medium of union boards. It is, however, unfortunate that they have so changed the proportions leviable from landlords and tenants as to result in a reduction of revenue of 20 lakhs annually.

9. The Select Committee have come to the extraordinary conclusion that the Bill has not been so changed as to warrant republication. A mere glance at the numerous changes which have been made in the Bill, apart from the importance of some of them is sufficient to rebut this conclusion.

10. There are many other changes in the Bill to which I have not alluded, but in my opinion there are few which can be called improvements; and in view of the radical alterations made by the Select Committee, in particular regarding the Central Board and the powers of Government, I am of opinion that the Bill, as it has emerged from the Select Committee, should be dropped and a fresh Bill introduced by Government.

The above are my personal views.

Note of Dissent by Mr. A. J. Dash, M.L.C.

I do not accept the decision of the Select Committee that the Bill has not been so altered as to require republication.

By depriving Government of practically all means of enforcing its responsibility in regard to primary education, the Select Committee have made so dangerous an innovation that I consider that the Bill should be withdrawn unless this defect be removed.

2. Three fundamental alterations are proposed by the Select Committee:—

(a) grant to a Central Board not amenable to the control of a Minister or the Local Government, of wide executive powers, of close control over the Councils administering the Bill in districts and of the whole power of directing Rural Primary Education policy. Under the arrangements put forward, if Government differ on fundamental policy with the Committee, it would have no effective means of enforcing its will;

(b) elimination of District Magistrates and Subdivisional Officers from membership of District Councils and widening the membership of these bodies;

(c) reduction of the rate of cess to four pice.

3. Central Board.—I see no necessity for the grant to any Central Body of executive powers. A Bill to raise and expend one crore of rupees of taxation places upon the Local Government such responsibilities that it should have direct control over the bodies administering these funds in the districts and undisputed powers of interference in any matter considered by it essential.

Further, a Central Board would be unsuitable for dealing with the many serious problems (not always purely educational) which may be expected to arise in the administration of a Bill for the spread of rural primary education. The solution of these must be in accordance with the general policy of Government adopted in other departments, and decisions thereon should remain with Government.

In particular, I consider it essential that the entire Inspectorate for Primary Education should remain under the direct control of the Local Government and find in the Select Committee's proposals to allow the Central Board to control an Inspectorate a typical illustration of the danger of allowing executive powers to such a body.

In general I disagree with the various alterations by which the Select Committee have sought to lessen Government control over the district administration of rural primary education. On the other hand what is needed is control from the centre much closer than at present—needed as much for more efficient administration in the districts as to provide Ministers and the Legislative Council with more power to direct policy than at present they possess.

Elimination of administrative officers from District Councils.—I am opposed to the elimination of District Magistrates and Subdivisional Officers from District Councils. Two tasks will immediately face these Councils at the outset. One is the location of schools and the elimination of inefficient or unsuitably sited schools. The second is the selection of trained staff for manning the reorganised schools; both these tasks will raise extremely difficult problems, requiring all the administrative experience that can possibly be brought to bear on their solution. I consider, therefore, that District Magistrates and Subdivisional Officers should be members of the District Councils at least for the first eight years of their existence.

In other respects the composition of District Council now proposed by the Select Committee appears less suitable than that in the Bill before amendment.

Alteration of cess provisions.—I deplore the reduction in the rate of cess from 5 pice to 4 in view of the urgency of the needs of rural primary education in the province. This will diminish income by 22 lakhs and seriously prejudice the possibility of the attainment of universal primary education in a reasonable time.

In my opinion 5 pice is the minimum taxation on which an effective scheme of expansion could be initiated.

4. This note does not attempt any examination of detail but indicates my objection to the main alterations proposed by the Select Committee. It represents a personal view only and is in no way an expression of Government or departmental opinion.

Joint note of dissent by Dr. W. A. Jenkins, M.L.C., and Mr. J. M. Sen, M.L.C.

We do not consider that the Bill as amended by Select Committee is acceptable and are of opinion that unless considerably revised it should be rejected. This note represents our personal views only and is in no way an expression of Government or departmental opinion.

Note of dissent by Maulvi Syed Majid Baksh, M.L.C.

I do not approve of the constitution and function of the Primary Education Board of Bengal as constituted by the Select Committee. I think at the inception the advisory character of the Board in question ought to be maintained. Another most objectionable feature is the introduction of the communal element in the constitution of the Board. It would have been better if in place of clause 4 (1) representatives were taken from every district to be elected by the District Boards respectively. The communal method of representation will not give satisfaction to the community concerned, on the other hand it will destroy a sound and representative basis of election to the Board. The method of taxation adopted will take away a substantial portion of the revenue which could have been made up if my proposal of taxing railway passengers and raising the price of cartridge papers had been accepted. As a matter of fact Government refused both the proposals and it is up to them to make good the deficit by grant from general revenue.

Note of dissent by Kumar Shishbehkharaswar Ray, M.L.C.

I sign the report subject to the reservation that I do not recommend that the Bill as amended be passed by the Council.

The principle underlying the changes that have been effected in Chapter II is repugnant to me. It betrays a want of confidence in the Government and incidentally in the Legislative Council to which, in this particular instance, the Government is responsible both in the matter of laying down its policy as also for the manner in which such policy is to be carried out.

In the present political and communal state of affairs in the country, it would be an unwise policy to isolate the department of Primary Education from other branches of the Government and make it over to an experimental body, to be administered independently of the Government. To my mind, just at present neither the Government nor the Legislative Council can afford to treat the question of primary education in rural Bengal as one which is not primarily their concern.

Note of dissent by Babu Surendra Mohan Moitra, M.L.C.

I sign the report of the Select Committee subject to the following note of dissent:—

The Education Cess, I am afraid, will not be very popular. The landlords will smart under a sense of encroachment upon the Permanent Settlement. The tenants already overtaxed will feel a burden very heavily. I am of opinion, other avenues of taxation to provide money should have been explored. Even the proposed taxation will not meet the requirements for universal primary education. It is regrettable that the Government is not willing to come forward to make adequate contribution to meet one of the primary duties of a Government.

The introduction of religious education in the primary schools is fraught with danger. It is bound to do more harm than good. I am definitely of opinion that under the present system of Government, Government should not lay its hand upon the religion.

Note of dissent by Maulvi Abdul Hamid Shah, M.L.C.

I sign the Report with the following notes of dissent:—

In Chapter II of the Bill.—In clause 4 (g), of the two members one shall be Hindu and the other a Muhammadan.

In clause 4 (j), for the first term of four years the post of the Chairman shall be honorary, as there will be very little work for him to do.

In Chapter III of the Bill.—In clause 6 (b), only the Chairman of the District Board ex officio and not the Vice-Chairman.

In clause 6 (e), two member for each subdivision instead of one.

In clause 6 (h), of the two members one shall be Hindu and the other a Muhammadan.

In clause 8 (I), the President shall be duly elected.

Note of dissent by Maulvi Shamsuddin Ahmed, M.L.C.

The Bill as amended by the Select Committee has been on the whole an improvement on the Bill as originally introduced. I have great pleasure in signing the Report, subject to the following note of dissent:—

The Bill should have included urban areas in its scope and in that case the question of financing the institutions would have been easier to solve.

Secondly the Government should have made provision in the Bill for a statutory sanction of a certain portion of the entire expenditure to be incurred for the expansion and control of primary education in Bengal.

As regards Chapter III the reduction of the rate of education cess from five pice to four pice and the alteration of incidence of the tax by providing that the raiyat and the landlord shall each pay 2 pice per rupee are certainly stupendous changes brought in the Bill. There is not the slightest doubt that these are improvements on the original Bill, in which the Government showed a great leaning towards the landlords by making provision for the payment of one pice for the landlord and four pice for the raiyat in the matter of payment of cess. The Bill as amended by the Select Committee has made provision for an equal payment. Calculated at the rate of 4 pice per rupee the total amount will probably fall short of the total expenditure to be incurred, but the deficit can very well be met from the general revenues of the country.

The question of finance would not have at all been difficult to solve if the Government had realised its great responsibility in the matter of education of its subjects, which is certainly the primary function of all governments.

In my humble opinion the proper adjustment in the payment of cess would have been to provide that the landlord shall pay three pice and the raiyat shall pay one pice per rupee.

Note of dissent by Maulvi Syed Jalaluddin Hashemy, M.L.C.

I sign the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal (Rural) Primary Education Bill subject to the following note of dissent:—

In my opinion, and I am sure every individual member of the Council will agree with me that the scope and extent of the Bill is unduly limited by making no provision for a system of Universal Education which is essential demand of the time. The Bill is intended for the rural areas only. It ought to have been extended to the urban areas also. This differentiation of rural and urban areas is not only undesirable but unjust and unwise.

The Bill as amended by the Select Committee is no doubt a substantial improvement upon the Bill as originally introduced specially in so far as the constitution of the parent and subordinate bodies are concerned. But I do not agree that any power should be vested in the Union Boards, Union Committees and Panchayats. There is still a great deal of difference of opinion in various places regarding smooth working of the Union Boards until the Bengal Village Self-Government Act of 1919 is thoroughly remodelled and reconstituted. I do not agree that a big amount of not less than Rs. 2,000 should be the salary per mensem of the Chairman of the Central Committee and not less than Rs. 1,000 should be the salary per mensem of the Secretary of the Committee as per clauses 4J and 4K of the Bill. I propose that Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 500 should be monthly salary of the Chairman and Secretary of the Committee respectively.

I propose that the Chairman of the District Board should be the President of the District Council for two terms of 8 years instead of one term of four years as per clause 8.

I suggest Government should definitely declare the amount that should be earmarked from the Provincial revenue for the primary education before the Primary Cess is levied.

I never agree that the primary education will be compulsory within ten years. I suggest it should be compulsory everywhere in Bengal within 4 years.

Joint note of dissent by Mr. A. K. Fazl-ul Huq, M.L.C., and Maulvi Muhammad Basiruddin, M.L.C.

We sign the report of the Select Committee subject to the following note of dissent:—

We are in general agreement with the trend of amendments proposed by the Select Committee, but we feel that there are important questions of principle involved in the proposed constitutions of the Primary Education Board and the District Council of Primary Education which do not commend themselves to us. We, however, refrain at this stage from going into details as the Praja Party to which we belong have not had any opportunity of meeting as a Party since the Bill was altered in the Select Committee.

Note of dissent by Mr. P. N. Guha, M.L.C.

The Primary Education Board.—I am in favour of the idea of forming an autonomous Primary Education Board for the control and supervision of the primary education in Bengal, but I do not approve of its composition as suggested by the Select Committee. The higher education of the Presidency is being controlled and supervised by a syndicate composed of 18 members and there is no reason why so many as 27 members will be necessary to look after the primary education, specially when the main work will be carried on by the District Committees. The business of the Board will be more or less confined to laying down the policy of the primary education for the guidance of the District Committees and consequently it should be a body composed only of some best brains in the country. I favour a Board composed of not more than 10 members, elected and nominated, including the Minister of Education as Chairman and a paid Vice-Chairman to be appointed by the Government. In my opinion no consideration should be paid either to any community or to any district in electing or nominating members of the Board specially in view of the existence of the administrative committees in every district. Only men who possess special knowledge and who may have a genuine desire to work for the spread of the primary education should be taken in the Board. I therefore disagree with good many provisions of Chapter II.

The District Councils.—Here again the number of members should be much less. If the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman of a District Board are to sit in the Council as ex officio members, there is no necessity of allowing a District Board to exercise a further privilege of electing as many members as there are subdivisions in the district [Clause 6 (d)]. The restrictions placed in sub-clause (f) and (i) of clause 6 on the appointment of members by Government are unnecessary. On the whole too many agencies have been provided for election of members to the District Council. They will be expensive and troublesome and in many places sources of the well-known daladali in Bengal. The District Council should in my opinion be composed of not more than 15 elected and nominated members including the Chairman of the District Board, the District Inspector of Schools and the District Health Officer as ex officio members.

Cess and Tax.—I disagree with the Committee and think that 5 pice on each rupee should be the minimum rate, 2 to be paid by the landlords and 3 by the tenants, and as the coal trade of Bengal is in a very bad way I am in favour of exempting the mines from the operation of sub-clause (2) of clause 29. I am not in favour of giving any power to the District Councils in connection with the tax on trade, business and profession. The powers given to the District Councils in sub-clauses (2), (3), (3a) of clause 34 are bound to be constant sources of tussle between the District Magistrates and the Councils and there is every reason to fear that underhand influence will always be at work to hamper the smooth working of assessment departments and diminish the income of the Council thereby.

Powers of the Government.—I am definitely of opinion that more powers should be given to the Local Government. As to the budget the Government will have the only power to return it with suggestions, but nothing is mentioned what the position of the Government will be in case the Board or Council refuses to modify the budget according to the suggestions of the Government. Definite powers should be given to the Government on this behalf in clause 5 (E). Then the powers given to the Government in clause 5 (G) are inadequate. It is not clear how the business of the Board is to go on after its suppression and before the formation of a new one. The Government should have definite powers to suppress a Board and control the affairs connected with the primary education in the Presidency for such a period as they find it absolutely necessary.

Conclusion.—In conclusion I am constrained to say that the amendments were prepared and carried out in the Select Committee with the main idea of wresting as much power as possible from an alien Government. This was done probably with the misapprehension that the Government will remain what it is to-day for all time to come. I am not one of those who cherish this idea. I feel that with the transfer of the nation building departments to the popular control an excellent beginning has been made and the time is not far off when the entire Government will be of the people and for the people. No line of demarcation is therefore necessary between the people and the Government. I wholly dissociate myself with the idea of keeping the department of education at arm's length in connection with the development of primary education specially at a time when it has been placed under the control of a popular representative. The Minister for Education and the department under him must be closely associated with activities in connection with the development of the primary education of the Province. The whole thing ought to be managed by an autonomous Board as is the case with the higher education in Bengal, but that with the help and co-operation of the Minister who is partly a man of our choice to-day and will be wholly so in the very near future. I therefore suggest that the Council should so modify the Bill as may bring the education department of the Government in closer touch with the Board which may be formed.

Note of dissent by Maulvi Muhammad Fazlullah, M.L.C.

I am of opinion that proper safeguard has not been made for the representation of the Mussalmans in the District Council as well as in the Provincial Board. It is in the fitness of things that every community should have representation proportionate to their population. The present backwardness of the Muslims in English education in particular, is mostly due to want of proper representation of this community in educational organizations. Artificial fetters, technical restrictions or other obstacles should not be put so as to deprive the majority community of its due share and provisions should be made in the Bill to constitute the various Boards on population basis so that there may be no necessity for either communal representation or for reservation for any community.

I fail to understand the reason or necessity of adopting again the principle of communal representation or reservation only in Chapter II, clause 4, under the constitution of the Primary Education Board of Bengal, while that principle was nowhere else adopted and was so violently opposed in other matters by the same members in their Minute of Dissent in the Report of the first Select Committee. Obviously it was anticipated that there was no likelihood of any Hindu member being returned from certain Divisions. There is no logic to adopt the principle only when an interest of the advanced minority community is likely to suffer, and to keep the majority community under perpetual subjugation.

I should like to oppose the proposed constitution of the Primary Education Board on another ground. I am strongly of opinion that no district council should go unrepresented on it. Most of the districts have got separate and distinct interest to be represented, and as such it is quite a natural demand that every district council should be in direct touch with the Central Board. In support of this I may also cite the principle underlying the rule that income of one district or a part thereof should on no account be spent in another. I would, therefore, propose that the Primary Education Board of Bengal be formed with 41 members as follows:—

1. The Chairman.
2. Director of Public Instruction, ex officio.
3. Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education, Bengal, ex officio.
4. Member of the Legislative Council representing the Dacca and the Calcutta Universities.
5. Twenty-six members representing each of the 26 district councils of Bengal.
6. One member representing the all-Bengal Teachers' Association.
7. One member representing the all-Bengal Reformed Madrasah.
8. (i) One educational expert.
(ii) One agricultural expert.
(iii) One industrial expert.
(iv) One lady having experience in educational matters.

9. Four members to be appointed by the Local Government.

Regarding the office bearers of the Provincial Board I am of opinion that Chairman of the Board should be a Muhammadan and the Chief Executive Officer or Secretary should be a Hindu. The Muhammadans forming the majority community as it does are backward in education for want of proper incentive and encouragement, and the fact of a Muhammadan being at the head of the Board is expected to make the Muslim outlook optimistic towards the education.

Similarly provision should be made in the Bill for the constitution of the District Council so as to maintain population basis. This is necessary for helping the autonomous development of the peoples' faculties in various parts of the district. A power should be given to the Local Government to nominate as many members as may make up the deficiency.

In Chapter III, clause 6 (h) I should like to propose that of the two members to represent the High Schools and High Madrasahs, one should be elected by the members of the District Teachers' Association and the other by those of the District Reformed Madrasah Teachers' Association.

Note of dissent by Babu Amarendra Nath Ghosh, M.L.C.

When this matter was discussed in the previous Select Committee and a report was published by it on the 18th March, 1929, I gave a note of dissent. In the present Bill I beg to press for the first part of my previous note of dissent which runs thus:—

"I object to the exclusion from the operations of the Bill the town of Calcutta and other municipal areas in the province. My grounds for objection are two-fold. Firstly, I prefer, as far as practicable, one system of primary education and one method of its propagation all over the province. Secondly, I want to introduce the same rules of compulsion as laid down in the case of rural areas to urban areas as well. It may be argued that provision has already been made for developing primary education in municipal areas and the new Bill is, so far as the municipalities are concerned unnecessary. But what do you find in reality? The introduction of free primary education has remained merely a pious wish in most municipalities. I do not overlook the fact that the percentage of literacy is higher in municipal areas than in the rural areas. But this does not necessarily mean that primary education has made a correspondingly greater advance in the municipalities among those for which the compulsory system is chiefly intended. In the municipalities such education has been so far restricted to what is known as the bhadralog classes who migrate to the towns. But the municipalities have done very little for the introduction of primary education among the lower strata of society. The ignorance of the working classes in the towns is almost at par with that of their brethren in the rural areas. I am afraid things will remain as they are unless the municipalities are also compelled by legislation to introduce free and compulsory primary education in their areas. I am also aware of the contention that the municipalities already pay a high rate of taxation and should not be further saddled with a new educational impost. But if we examine the position closely we find that such contention has no leg to stand upon. The incidence of taxation, taken as a whole, is as high in the rural areas as in the municipalities; while the latter are inhabited mostly by people who have greater paying capacity.

I, therefore, submit that the municipalities including the town of Calcutta should also be included in the Bill."

Note of dissent by Mr. J. C. Gupta, M.L.C.

I sign this report subject to the following note of dissent:—

In my opinion, unless a further contribution from the provincial revenues or any other form of taxation is possible to supplement the cess and tax proposed in this report, we should levy a cess at the rate of 5 pice instead of 4 pice recommended herein.

Note of dissent by Babu Manmatha Nath Ray, M.L.C.

I sign the report subject to the following note of dissent:—

Although the Bill has undergone some very material and desirable changes in its passage through the Select Committee, it is yet unsatisfactory on the following grounds:—

(1) The Bill does not contain any provision laying down the share of the probable expenditure which the Government will bear out of its present revenues. It would be unfair if not preposterous, to propose that the primary education would be financed mainly by an additional cess to be levied from the poorest section of the population, some of the other Indian Legislatures have not overlooked it.

(2) The apportionment of cess between the rent-payers and the rent-receivers does not seem to be quite fair to the rent-payers.

Note of dissent by Dr. Bidhan Chandra Roy, M.L.C.

I sign this report subject to the following note of dissent:—

In clause 29 (2) the rate of the primary education cess has been fixed, by a majority, at 4 pice on each rupee on annual value of land and clause 30 (4) says that one-half of the said cess is to be paid by the cultivating raiyat. This amendment is open to following objection:—

(1) The total receipt from primary education cess will, if assessed at 4 pice per rupee be less than that which has been calculated as necessary for carrying on the duties of the Act, and

(2) Under clause 30 the burden of paying the entire cess has been in the first instance put upon the estate-holder or the tenure-holder, the share of the cultivating raiyat to be realised afterwards by the tenure-holders or the estate-holders. This is hardly fair to the estate-holder or the tenure-holder. As I pointed out to the Committee, in spite of the popular notion, to the contrary, if we calculate the actual incidence of taxation on the personal income of the tenure-holder, the estate-holder or the raiyat at the rates mentioned in clause 29 (2), it would be seen that for every rupee of income the rates paid by the estate-holder or the tenure-holder would be greater than that paid by the raiyat. If to this is added the cost of collection and the risk of non-realisation, an equal distribution of rates between the tenure-holder and the raiyat is not justifiable. I therefore suggest that the taxation should be on a graded scale, so that the incidence of taxation on poorer tenure-holder or an estate-holder—some of whom are really poor, will be smaller than that in the case of the bigger landholders and give the poorest tenure-holders relief. This would mean that on the whole the realisation of the primary education cess on the basis of the annual value of land would fetch an income very near to the estimates, viz., 1 crore and 26 lakhs. On the other hand, the raiyat should pay at an uniform rate of 3 pice to the rupee of rent payable by him and not 4 pice proposed by the Government.

Note of dissent by Babu Nalini Ranjan Sarkar, M.L.C.

I sign the report subject to the following note of dissent:—

The changes brought about in the Select Committee regarding the portion of the Bill dealing with administrative matters, although they leave room for improvements, have made the original Bill an acceptable one to begin with. I do not propose to make any further comments in this connection and I shall confine my remarks mainly to the portion of the Bill dealing with the taxation proposals.

The total cost to be ultimately met for compulsory free primary education, as estimated by the Director of Public Instruction, in the scheme circulated to the Members of the Committee, amounts to Rs. 2,40,00,000 recurring and a capital cost of Rs. 1,25,000. This estimate does not include the cost of the training of teachers and inspecting staff and moreover does not cover the factors associated with compulsory free primary education, such as the removal of the present adult illiteracy, better provision for secondary and technical education, and library movements for maintaining the literacy acquired, which are absolutely inseparable from such education, if it is to be really efficacious. The Director's estimate, therefore, takes into account only the barest minimum for giving a start to the education of all children of school-going age.

According to Government's estimate the provision of a cess of 4 pice in the rupee on the annual value of land as now settled in the Bill, will yield Rs. 80 lakhs a year; and similarly the proceeds of taxation on trade and business proposed under clause 34 of the Bill may at a stretch yield Rs. 10 lakhs. The Government grant will be, say Rs. 23 lakhs. The total available fund, therefore, will be Rs. 113 lakhs. Thus, taking all the resources into consideration this sum represents practically the whole of the available fund for this purpose.

Had the original provision of a cess of 5 pice in the rupee been accepted, an additional Rs. 20 lakhs would have been available bringing the total up to Rs. 133 lakhs. It is obvious however, that a scheme requiring Rs. 240 lakhs for its minimum recurring expenditure cannot be financed with an annual amount of Rs. 133 lakhs or even 133 lakhs. The net result will be that not more than half the scheme would be provided for. The deficit of Rs. 1,27,00,000 cannot be met out of the existing revenues of Bengal under the present system of administration. And even if the Meson settlement be altered, and further funds be made available for expenditure in the province, it is doubtful if adequate demands could be made on it for compulsory free primary education, in view of other very pressing requirements concerned with the development of public health and economic improvement. Thus the whole population, owning land and having business, trades and professions, will be paying the education cess, but a large number of them will obtain no benefits from such taxation. It cannot be said that this contingency was not foreseen by Government when the Bill was first brought before the Council. In fact, it was owing to this fact that the original idea of Government was merely to extend free primary education and not to make it compulsory and universal. This idea was changed in the Select Committee, and primary education was made compulsory and free but the necessary provision for adequate funds has not been made.

The fact also remains that in order to meet the required funds two methods of taxation are provided in the Bill, one under clause 29 on agricultural income, and the other on the income from trade, profession and business under clause 34. For the former, the same principle as in the case of road cess under the Cess Act has been adopted. As a result the proposed cess looks more like a tax on land than a tax on agricultural income. For this reason as well as for the reason that the method of assessment and recovery of the road cess is in itself inequitable and oppressive, I would not follow it for the Education Cess, in spite of the apparent convenience.

Let me now explain why I consider the present method of road cess inequitable and oppressive. When the Cess Act was passed in 1880 Government was faced with the problem of equitable adjustment and Hon'ble Mr. Scholch cut the Gordian Knot in his endeavour to give effect to Government's intention of dividing the burden equally between the raiyats and landlords, in the following manner. He laid down the formula that one-third of the gross produce of a bigha of land represented the cost of cultivation, one-third the raiyat's rent (which was the landlord's income) and one-third the raiyats' net income. The implication in this formula was that the raiyats' net income was equal to the rent received by the landlord. On this idea the cess was also divided equally between the raiyat and the landlord. But the incidence of taxation on the basis of this simple division was as arbitrary as the principle itself and both were wrong. The point will be made clear from a concrete example:—

	Rs.
The gross produce of a bigha of land may be taken at 6 maunds of paddy, at Rs. 4 per maund	24
Less cost of cultivation, say, at half, i.e., Rs. 12 which is reasonable, and the rent at Rs. 2	14
The raiyat's net income is therefore	10

The cess paid by the raiyat, being based upon the rent, is three annas (at 6 pice per rupee) and the landlord's share is also the same. The incidence, however, is different. While the raiyat pays 3 annas on an income of Rs. 10 the landlord pays the same amount on an income of Rs. 2 only. Such incidence by itself would not be objectionable had the landlords as a class been affluent and capable of bearing such disproportionate burden. But a very large majority of middle class persons who may come under the term landlord are in a position worse than that of the raiyat. This is not a discovery of mine. Both Messrs. Momen and Sachse relate the same experience in their Settlement Reports and the former has calculated the per capita income of a middle class landlord at Rs. 42 a year and that of an agriculturist at Rs. 54. This is, therefore, undoubtedly the condition in the province. That a cess is a real hardship on these landlords is easily understood when it is remembered that such small landlords are obliged to pay the whole amount of the cess due in advance, and are left to realise the tenant's share in very small amounts from them often with difficulty.

and sometimes through the law courts which, of course, entails extra cost and considerable trouble. In spite of our best efforts it has not been found possible to devise any method of the equitable apportionment of such cess between the different classes of landlords according to their circumstances, so as to afford relief to the very large number of small landholders, as also to the tenants.

That the present system of assessment and collection of road cess proves oppressive, in certain cases, can be proved in another way. Supposing a raiyat's rent is Rs. 4 he has to pay a cess of 2 annas if he has not sublet his land. If he sublets to an under-raiyat on a rent, say, of Rs. 6 the annual value jumps up from Rs. 4 to Rs. 6 and the cess from 4 annas to 6 annas of which the under-raiyat, the poorest man in the whole series, has to pay 3 annas or in other words the whole of the increase. The position is still worse if the under-raiyat happens to be a produce-paying tenant. The recovery is oppressive because the landlord is forced to pay the tenant's portion of the cess to Government in advance (perhaps for 3 or 4 years) of actual realisation from the tenant and the rebate allowed, distributed as it is amongst many people, cannot prove sufficient to cover the cost and trouble. Malpractices and indirect devices of amalgamation of cess, often at higher rates, are encouraged and resorted to, and the tenants in such cases have a just grievance.

I suggest, therefore, that a method of assessment should be adopted which would be more in accordance with the agricultural income of the individual concerned. The rent may be a guide in most cases of the income of the rent-receiver, but not of the person who has received a large salami because he has let out his land at a low rent; or of a person who cultivates his land direct. A record-of-rights has been prepared in most districts, and it should not be difficult for a staff of properly trained assessors (e.g., of the class of Settlement Kanungoes) moving from district to district to assess the annual agricultural income of every individual, whether cultivator or rent-receiver, having interest in land, in every village and thus assess the cess at a uniform rate according to income and irrespective of class. This would have the further advantage of clearing the atmosphere of the pernicious class feeling that seems to be gaining ground at present. An appellate authority may be provided in the Collector or sub-divisional Officer assisted by 2 or 3 local men as assessors. I do not think the cost which I have not the means of working out in detail will be prohibitive nor do I think that if the same method be adopted (as it should be) for the road cess that it will exceed the present cost of periodical cess revaluation. The same agency should assess also the tax on trade, business or profession, and I would add that the Roads and Public Works Cesses may be handled by this agency, and eventually the ordinary union rates also, in fact it might form the nucleus of an assessing authority for all local rates.

It is a notorious fact that local bodies seldom assess themselves at all, and rarely on a proper basis, for any public utility purpose. Such separate assessing agency should make for more equitable and just taxation.

The collection of the cess should be made directly from the assessors in the village and may conveniently be entrusted to the Union Boards or a proper staff under the civil officers where there are no Union Boards. Here again I do not think that the cost will exceed the cost now incurred on account of rebate allowed to the zemindars and tenure-holders and for keeping the detailed accounts in the Collectorate.

With this procedure, not only will the hardship, now incidental to the cess being realised through landlords, be obviated, but a larger collection than what would be obtained by the present method may reasonably be expected.

I recognise the difficulty of adopting this plan at the start in view of the fact that we want to bring the provisions of this Act into force at once. I would, therefore, agree to have the method suggested in the Bill followed as a provisional arrangement, while the necessary preliminaries are taken up for the substitution of the suggested better method of separate collection in 2 or 3 years. From the financial point of view this is important for a much larger revenue than what can be expected from the present cess method would be obtained.

If for any reason it be found necessary to retain the system suggested in the Bill regarding the Education Cess, the rate should be 5 pice per rupee as in the Original Bill, and the incidence also should be as in the Original Bill, namely, 4 pice payable by the tenant and one pice by the landlord. But if the burden of collection of this cess be taken away from the landlords then the incidence may be 3 pice payable by the tenant and 2 pice payable by the landlord.

In the present economic condition of the country any step taken without proper foresight, specially a financial step, is bound to lead to disaster. While the country is prepared to tax itself for a definite purpose of this nature, it is certainly unwilling to do so on a wrong principle or under a wrong method. With greater scope for self-government in view, it is all the more necessary that the correct principle of taxation and process of collection should be accepted and established.

In this note of mine, only the basic idea of a scheme is given. It is not possible for me to formulate a definite scheme with a proper estimate of income and expenditure since all the data are not available to me. But from the available facts relating to the amount of chaukidari tax, union rates and cesses as well as the number of holdings and houses it can safely be asserted that a scheme on the lines indicated above is within the range of practical politics.

Note of dissent by Mr. Bijoy Prasad Singh Roy, M.L.C.

I regret that I am again unable to agree with some of the main principles on which the proposed legislation is based. The Bill has been recast by the Select Committee beyond recognition. I do not approve of the system of taxation as incorporated in the original Bill and accepted by the Select Committee, and do not support the constitution of the Central Primary Education Committee and District School Boards as provided for in Chapters II and III respectively of the Bill. I submit this Note of Dissent as a supplement to one submitted by me on the report of the previous Select Committee and shall not repeat the arguments advanced therein but shall only deal with those points which arise in connection with the Bill as modified.

As regards the principle of taxation laid down in Chapter IV I think the whole system is unjust, arbitrary and highly prejudicial to the interest of the class dependant on agricultural income. The Government ought to realise that there is a moral limit to their competency in putting further pressure on this class without assuring any fixed contribution to the Primary Education Fund from their ordinary revenue. The new reforms are likely to be introduced in the near future when the readjustment of revenue and reallocation of funds can be reasonably expected. So this proposal to put an additional burden of over a crore of rupees on agricultural income, with this indecent haste can never be supported far less can it be justified. The land revenue from Bengal plus Road and Public Works cesses amounts to little over 3 crore of rupees; the imposition of Education Cess to the extent of a crore of rupees will therefore increase the burden on land by about 33 per cent.—the effect of which I need not attempt to describe. The imposition of the Education Cess and its realisation under the Bengal Cess Act will affect most adversely the purse of all classes of people in rural Bengal, viz., zemindars, tenure-holders and tenants who also pay a major portion of the scheduled taxes imposed in 1922.

I also strongly disapprove of the constitution of the Primary Education Board and of the District Council. They will be in my opinion too large and too heterogeneous bodies to be businesslike or to discharge the executive functions for the advancement of the primary education in Bengal. I undoubtedly prefer the constitution of the District Education Council as suggested by the Government in the original Bill to those substituted by the Select Committee. By their composition the Boards will be incapable of giving effect to measures helpful to the spread of primary education; they are likely to be reduced to so many debating clubs full of factions and communal spirits without much sense of responsibility. The constitution of the Corporation of Calcutta and its effect on the municipal administration of the city ought to be an object-lesson both to the Government and the public unless they ignore realities. I venture to submit that the execution of such an ambitious and complicated scheme as contemplated by the Bill ought to be left in the hands of the Government for some time to come or at least in the hands of a body over which the Government will have a salutary control. I am against the imposition of any further tax on the already overtaxed agricultural population, so I am far less inclined to hand over that money to bodies who on account of their want of experience and anxiety to secure popular applause might be tempted to gamble with the funds at their disposal and waste it on unfruitful schemes undeserving institutions and even on political or semi-political propagandas. On these grounds I feel that the Bill as recast by the Select Committee should be recirculated for eliciting public opinion if the Government feel diffident to drop it altogether.

Note of dissent by Maulvi Ashrafuddin Chaudhury, M.L.C.

Broadly speaking I agree with the principal changes and modifications made in the Primary Education Bill by the Select Committee. But it is difficult to agree in all its details. As an instance in point I see no reason to provide representation in the District Council of Education for those gentlemen who pay a cess of Rs. 500 annually or for those traders or businessmen who may pay a primary education tax of Rs. 100. I am certain that the Select Committee has made much improvement upon the original Bill. Primary education cess has been equitably distributed amongst the landowning classes and the cultivating raiyats. Other sources of augmenting the Primary Education Fund may gradually be tapped by means of legislation and otherwise.
